Explanation.--The what f a what? What kind of rose f Observe that both large and refreshed describe the rose. Note II.--An Adjective that implies number, must agree in this respect with the substantive to which it relates. For the sake of greater definiteness, this Note, which is applicable to the adjectives this, these, that, those, two, three, four, etc., may be used in parsing; though the Rule can also be used in place of it. W. You have been playing this two hours. How do you like those kind of apples f The room is eighteen foot long, and sixteen foot wide. Note III.--An Adjective or a Participle is sometimes used absolutely, after a participle or an infinitive. The way to be happy is to be good. The dread of being poor. To appear discouraged is the surest way to invite an attack. Observe that happy, good, poor, and discouraged, are not used with the names of the persons described-It does not seem to us that it would be improper to parse the entire phrase simply as a noun, according to Note IV; thus dispensing with this Note altogether. Obs. 2.--When the article stands only before the first of two or more connected nouns, it belongs to them jointly if they denote but one person or thing, or more viewed as one; if not, it belongs to the first noun, and is understood before each of the others. T saw Webster,...
